DINNER FAVOR NOVELTIES.

Miniature Pingpong and Roulette Tables Are the Latest.

Latest among dinner favors is the miniature pingpong table, says the New York Times. It is 4 inches long by 2 wide and stands 1½ inches high. The table and legs appear to be of light brown wood with a fine grain, and the top is covered to within a quarter of an inch of its edge with light green cloth. The pingpong net is of white blonde cloth, held in position by two pearl headed pins. Near one corner of the table a tiny ball is caught, and at the other a minute racket tied with a pale green bow is fastened. In the lower part of the table is the box for ice cream.

Another novelty in favors is a roulette table. The wheel is complete, including the ball and the mechanism for spinning it.

A favor for a bon voyage dinner is a steamship, perhaps five inches long, plowing its way through silvery waves formed of tinfoil. The steamship is a fairly accurate model and carries a tiny flag.

The latest in christening favors is a box with a cover perhaps five inches long that can be separated from the box and hung as a wall ornament. This top is done in bas-relief with plastic material. In the center is a cradle draped in pink and white in which reposes an infant. A stork stands at the foot of the cradle with one eye cocked at the baby. At one end a window is represented, and a tiny picture is also seen against the wall. The whole is framed in pink.

Dodging a Tip.

Polite Diner—You have waited upon me very acceptably, and I have enjoyed my meal thoroughly. You have behaved like a gentleman, and a gentleman you certainly are, notwithstanding your humble occupation.

Waiter—I hope, sir, that I am a gentleman. I always try to be one.

Polite Diner—It is as I suspected, and, being a gentleman, I shall not insult you by offering you money. Perhaps at some time I may be able to reciprocate your courtesy. Till then farewell.

Conditions So Similar.

"Does that moon remind you of anything?" he asked, his mind reverting to their courtship days.

"Yes," she answered.

"What?" he asked.

"You," she said; "on club nights."

He looked again. Yes, the moon was in that condition.—Chicago Post.

BUSINESS AND HOMES.

The Cause of the Trolley Car and the Street Railway.

On one point the American is determined—he will not live near his work, says Charles M. Skinner in the Atlantic. You shall see him in the morning, one of sixty people in a car built for twenty-four, reading his paper, clinging to a strap, trodden, jostled, smirched, thrown into harrowing relations with men who drink whisky, chew tobacco, eat raw onions and incontinently breathe, and after thirty minutes of this contact, with the roar of the streets in his ears, with languid clerks and pinguid market women leaning against him, he arrives at his office. The problems of his homeward journey in the evening will be still more difficult, because, in addition to the workers, the cars must carry the multitude of dememoiselles who shop and go to matinees.

To many men and women of business a seat is an undreamed of luxury. Yet they would be insulted if one were to ask why they did not live over their shops, as Frenchmen do, or back of them, like Englishmen. It is this uneasy instinct of Americans, this desire of their families to separate industrial and social life, that makes the use of the trolley car imperative, and the street railway in this manner widens the life and dominion of the people. It enables them to distribute themselves over wider spaces and unwittingly to symbolize the expansiveness of the nation.

Heroic Courtesy.

A French writer on "The Revolution, the Empire and the Restoration" cites an amusing instance of what he calls heroic courtesy. Percy, Lord Beverly, invited to dine with him a marquis who was one of the most valiant soldiers of the army of Conde. Wishing to honor his guest and the cause which he served, that of the French king, the English peer ordered his butler to bring him a bottle of fine wine 100 years ago, "a ray of sun shut in crystal." He opened it carefully and offered a glass to the marquis, saying, "If you deem it worthy the honor, will you drink in this wine the health of the king?"

The marquis tasted the wine. "How do you like it?" asked the host. "Excellent," replied the marquis. "Then," said Lord Beverly, "finish the glass. Only in a full glass can one drink the health of so great and so unfortunate a king." Without hesitation the marquis did as he was bidden. Only when the Englishman tasted the wine did he learn that what he had forced on his guest was castor oil.

STATEMENT BY BRYAN

EXPLAINS HIS ABSENCE FROM THE HARMONY DINNER AT NEW YORK.

SCORES MR. CLEVELAND

Says His Administration, "Instead of Being a Fountain of Democracy, Sending Forth Pure and Refreshing Streams, Became a Stagnant Pool From Whose Waters Foul Vapors Arose."

Lincoln, Neb., June 24.—The absence of W. J. Bryan from the Democratic harmony dinner at New York is pretty well explained by a statement given out by Mr. Bryan commenting on the dinner. At the outset Mr. Bryan says there is no such thing as Democratic harmony where Former President Cleveland is concerned. He says:

"The banquet given on the evening of June 19 by the Tilden club of New York city was advertised as a 'harmony meeting,' but it turned out to be what might have been expected of such gatherings, an ovation to the chief guest, Former Democratic President Grover Cleveland. There can be no such thing as harmony between men like him and those who believe in Democratic principles, and he is frank enough to say so. He spent no time looking for 'middle ground' upon which to gather together discordant elements. He boldly called upon the members of the party to abandon their convictions and accept the construction he places upon Democratic principles. He even taunted the party with being a sort of prodigal son and invited it to give up its diet of husks and return to its father's house."

"He spoke of his 'retirement from political activity' and said: 'Perhaps there are those who would define my position as one of banishment instead of retirement. Against this I shall not enter a protest.'"

"He not only boasted of his course, but put his brand upon those who sat at meat with him. Having asserted that his Democratic faith compelled him to leave the party (or resulted in his banishment) he described the banquet as sharing in that faith. "He is not only defiant, but insists that party success can only be secured by an open and avowed return to his ideas."

Harmony Is to Be Secured, not by the suppression of differences, but by the elimination of those who differ from him.

"He (Cleveland) secured his nomination in 1892 by a secret bargain with the financiers; his committee collected from the corporations and spent the largest campaign fund the party ever had; he filled his cabinet with corporate agents and placed railroad attorneys on the United States bench to look to the interests of their former clients. He turned the treasury over to a Wall street syndicate and the financial member of his official family went from Washington to become the private attorney of the man who forced (?) the treasury department to sell him government bonds at 105 and then resold them at 117. He tried to prevent the adoption of the income tax provision, refused to sign the only tariff reform measure passed since the war, and while thundering against trusts in his messages, did even less than Knox has done to interfere with their high handed methods."

"His administration, instead of being a fountain of Democracy, sending forth pure and refreshing streams, from whose foul waters vapors arose—poisonous to those who lingered near."

Became a Stagnant Pool,

"Having debauched his party he was offended by its effort to reform and gave it over to the enemy. Virgilinus killed his daughter to save her chastity, Cleveland stabbed his party to prevent its return to the paths of virtue."

"And now, still gloating over his political crimes, he invites the party to return to him and apologize for the contempt which it has expressed for him. Will it? Not until the principles of Jefferson are forgotten and the works of Jackson cease to inspire. "If we are to have reorganization, Cleveland himself should accept the presidential nomination. It would be due him. His reinstatement would be poetic justice to him and retribution to those whose Democratic conscience revolted against his undemocratic conduct. Of course he would get no Democratic votes, but, being closer to plutocracy than any Republican likely to be nominated, he might divide the enemy and even Democrats would have what little consolation would come from receiving their 'disappointment in advance."

"Mr. Cleveland's nomination would have this advantage over the nomination of any other reorganizer, he would make the Democrats preferred creditors and tell them that they would not be benefitted by his administration. "Mr. Cleveland's speech should be read in full. It answers a useful purpose. It decided upon by the plutocratic elements for which the reorganizers stand. Tariff reform is to be made the chief issue and the men who voted for McKinley, the high priest of protection, are to carry on a sham battle with their companion of 1896, while the financiers make a dollar redeemable in gold and fasten upon the country an 'asset' currency and a branch bank system. Trusts are to be denounced in sonorous terms, while the campaign managers mortgage the party to the trust magnates in return for campaign funds. Sometimes imperialism will be denounced, as in Mr. Hopkins' Illinois convention; sometimes ignored, as in Mr. Cleveland's speech, but whether denounced or ignored, the secret and silent power that can compel submission to the demands of the financiers and to the demands of the trust magnates can compel submission to the Democrats of the exploiters and representatives of militarism. The fight is on between a Democracy and a Clevelandism which means plutocracy. Every speech made by Mr. Cleveland shows more clearly the seriousness of the policies for which he stands. We have more to fear from those, who, like Mr. Hill, endorse Mr. Cleveland's views, but conceal their real purpose in ambush language."

CLEVELAND SENSATION.

City Councilman Kohl Hands Over $2,000 Bribe Money.

Cleveland, June 24.—During a meeting of the city council Councilman Kohl suddenly raised up in his seat and held up over his head $2,000 in money, at the same time making the statement that it was the partial payment on what was to be a bribe of $5,000 to him for his efforts to introduce certain unfavorable amendments to the applications of the East Ohio Gas company (natural gas) seeking admission to this city. There was the greatest excitement in the chamber when this statement was heard and Mr. Kohl immediately turned the money over to the council clerk.

Mayor Johnson, who was present, then charged Dr. F. W. Daykin as being the man who acted as a go-between and who gave Kohl the money.

The East Ohio company is a Standard Oil branch and wants a franchise to run pipes into this city.

Dr. Daykin has been placed under arrest on the charge of bribery. He is locked up at the central police headquarters and will not be admitted to bail unless the police officials are ordered to release him on an order from the court.

AFTER THE BEEF TRUST.

New York Retail Butchers Form a Rival Company.

New York, June 24.—The Retail Butchers' Protective association announces that a company has been formed to fight the so-called beef trust. The company has a capital stock of $1,000,000, two-thirds of which has already been subscribed, according to President Edward F. O'Neill of the association.

The officers of the association professed a reluctance to give out information on the ground that publicity might result in defeating their plans.

It is said, however, that arrangements have been made with drovers and ranchmen in the West to supply 2,000 head of cattle a week, the shipments to begin in about a month. The present demand in this city is between 10,000 and 15,000 head. The new company has been named the "Retail Butchers' Abattoir," and it is said, has already been promised the active support of 4,500 retail butchers in Greater New York.

WESTERN UNION OUSTED.

Postal Telegraph Company Secures the Pennsylvania Lines.

Philadelphia, June 24.—The Record says: Negotiations have been finally concluded whereby the Postal Telegraph company will secure 3,500 offices and all the lines owned by the Pennsylvania railroad now operated by the Western Union. The Postal will take possession of the offices on Jan. 1, when the Western Union will be compelled to give up all of the trunk lines now in use which are on the property of the Pennsylvania railroad. This deal will deprive the Western Union of its chief outlets west and south, in addition to the 3,500 feeders that cost little or nothing to maintain. The contract has been closed so far as the lines directly controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad are concerned, and other contracts have been signed for the allied lines which will go into effect as soon as existing contracts expire. All these contracts will terminate within three or four years.

GRAND DINNER PARTY

KING EDWARD AND QUEEN ALEX.

ANDRA ENTERTAIN AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

A BRILLIANT ASSEMBLAGE

Guests Included Seventy Royal Personages, Representing the Sovereigns of All the Monarchies of the World—Colonial Premiers Received by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain—Festivities in Full Swing.

London, June 24.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra gave a grand dinner party at Buckingham palace to seventy royal personages, who practically represented the sovereigns of all the monarchies of the world.

The list of their majesties' guests was headed by the czar and czarina of Russia and included an immense array of princes and princesses and all the members of the British royal family.

Buckingham palace was beautifully decorated and the bands of the Grenadier and Coldstream guards discoursed throughout the evening. The dinner was followed by a brilliant reception which was attended by the members of the suites of all the foreign potentates now in London.

Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, and Mrs. Chamberlain (who was Miss Mary Endicott of Massachusetts), received the colonial premiers and other distinguished visitors from Great Britain's colonies at their London residence during the evening.

The Prince of Wales had a busy day in receiving the royal guests related to his family who arrived in London. He paid three separate visits to the Victoria station for this purpose, where a special reception room, gay with palms and flowers, had been arranged. The last guest to be received by the prince was the czar and czarina of Russia, who had arrived on one of the Russian imperial yachts and landed at Gravesend.

The enormous and daily growing crowds and the babel of foreign tongues in London may, perhaps, be considered, so far, the most striking feature of the coronation festivities. Early morning sees crowds of cyclists, mostly women, wheeling along the routes of the processions to view the decorations. Later in the day there begins an endless stream of vehicles of every conceivable description, from the aristocratic equipages of the wealthy to the humble coster or market carts containing entire families, seated on chairs and stools. Brakes crowded with tourists of every nationality are driven over the routes, there is fighting for the outside seats on omnibuses, while on the sidewalks are dense masses of slowly moving pedestrians.

The commissioner of police has issued an explanatory notice saying that the barriers which have been erected along the route will not necessarily be closed during the processions, but from present appearances, such a course would be absolutely imperative to prevent serious accidents.

In 1883 he was honored with the presidency of the world's Sunday school convention.

Funeral of King Albert.

Dresden, Saxony, June 24.—The funeral of King Albert of Saxony, who died June 19, which took place here, was most impressive. The Catholic court church, where the funeral services were held, was draped in black. The coffin was covered with a red satin pall and around it a vigil had been kept by Saxon officers and dignitaries of the Saxon court since it was conveyed to the church last Saturday.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

Will Often Help You Greatly. Read What a Brainerd Citizen Says.

You may hesitate to listen to the advice of strangers, but the testimony of friends or residents of Brainerd is worth your most careful attention. It is an easy matter to investigate such proof as this. Then the evidence must be conclusive. Read the following:

Mrs. N. G. Blake, of West Brainerd says: "I suffered a great deal from inflammation of the kidneys and I grew worse in place of better. My back in the region of the kidneys was sore, was lame and hurt me very much, an aching pain being ever present. The kidney secretions were dark in color and on standing deposited much sediment. When Doan's Kidney Pills were advertised I sent my son for a box. I was a little afraid I would not be able to use them for I cannot take some kinds of medicine.

I found, however, that they were mild in their operations and did not produce any bad effects. Before taking them very long the kidney secretions became healthy in color, all deposit was removed, and the soreness and pain were replaced by a perfectly comfortable feeling."

Sold for 50 cents a box, at the McFadden Drug Co., H. P. Dunn & Co. and all druggists. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

At John Knox's Grave.

The guidebooks unite in telling the visitor in Edinburgh to see the grave of John Knox. It is situated in Parliament square and is marked by a small rectangular slab of stone sunk in the cobblestone paving of the street, with the chiseled inscription, "J. K. 1573." But it is odds against even the acute tourist that he finds the great reformer at once, for only five feet away from the holy ground there is a similar sunken slab, and many times a day parties of tourists may be seen approaching on tiptoe the second stone and bending over it with keen interest only to read, "Wilking Patent Hydrant," and find themselves face to face with the water supply system of a modern town instead of the bones of the eminent clergyman.

CRUELITIES COMPARED.

House Discusses Methods Used in the Philippine and Civil Wars.

Washington, June 24.—Debate on the civil government bill warmed up in the house during the day and henceforth promises to be of a much livelier character. The increased interest is due to the injection into the debate of a comparison of the cruelties charged to have been practiced in the Philippines with those which occurred during the Civil war. The subject has been lightly touched upon once or twice before, but attracted little attention until Mr. Grosvenor (O.) revived the memory of the extremities to which Grant and Jackson were put during the Rebellion. This was followed by a speech from Mr. Mahon (Va.), in which he paraded the horrors of Andersonville and Libby prisons. He predicted that in the coming elections the American people would stand by the "boys in blue." Mr. Grosvenor, in his speech, also defended the rules of the house against the criticism made upon them and paid a high tribute to Speaker Henderson's impartiality.

Mr. De Armond (Mo.) spoke at considerable length in opposition to the administration's Philippine policy.

TO ADMIT TERRITORIES.

Senator Quay Urges Statehood for Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona.

Washington, June 24.—A motion was entered formally in the senate by Mr. Quay of Pennsylvania to discharge the committee on territories from further consideration of what is known as the omnibus territorial bill—a bill to admit as states, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. Mr. Quay spoke forcibly in support of his motion, maintaining that both political parties in national convention had pledged themselves to the admission to statehood of the territories. Mr. Beveridge of Indiana, chairman of the committee, said the measure had been put over until next session by the committee because it was not believed there would be time now to consider it properly. No action was taken on the motion.

During the greater part of the session the unfinished business, the ratifying a convention with the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians, was under discussion. It was not disposed of.

CAPTAIN HINES ACQUITTED.

Found Not Guilty of Stringing a Private Up by the Thumbs.

Plattsburg, N. Y., June 24.—Captain John L. Hines, quartermaster of the Twenty-third United States infantry here, who was tried before a general courtmartial last week on a charge of "conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline in violation of the sixty-second article of war," has been acquitted. Captain Hines was tried on two specifications, on both of which and on the charge as a whole the court found him not guilty and honorably acquitted him and he has been released from arrest and returned to duty. It was charged that he ordered Private Penlow of his company strung up by the thumbs to make him confess his accomplices in a robbery which occurred while the Twenty-third regiment was in Jolo, in the Philippines.

PLAN TO FIGHT ANARCHY.

Bishop Quigly of Buffalo Takes Steps for an Organization.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 24.—Bishop Quigly of the diocese of Buffalo has appointed a committee to draw up plans for an organization to fight anarchy and socialism. This step has been taken in line with the recommendation of Pope Leo XIII. in his encyclicals on socialism. The proposed society will be made up of priests and lay members of the church and is believed to be the first organization of its kind to be formed in this country. The committee will submit plans of organization and a preamble of principles at a general meeting of the diocese to be held in August.

RULING BY SECRETARY SHAW.

Personal Effects Do Not Simply Constitute Clothing.

Laredo, Tex., June 24.—A Monterey, Mex., special says: According to a ruling of Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, it is possible for any American returning to the United States after a visit to Mexico to take back goods purchased in the republic of Mexico to the value of $100. Mr. Shaw's ruling is based on an interpretation of that portion of the import laws that states one may bring in free of duty $100 worth of personal effects. This has always been construed heretofore to mean $100 worth of wearing apparel.

Panama Canal Men Confident.

Washington, June 24.—The friends of the Panama project have been making a canvass of the strength of the senate amendment in the house and are confident that a motion to concur can command a majority. This, however, may become complicated by propositions to attach conditions to the concurrence, one of the conditions being a time limit for the period of negotiation to secure a perfected title.

Forest Fire Threatens a Town.

Sedalia, Colo., June 24.—A forest fire which has been raging about a week near Chipeta Mountain now threatens the mining camp of Marshall, twenty miles west of here. The high winds have increased the fires, and, shifting about, are now driving them directly toward Marshall. The people are moving out, as there is no way to stop the fires or protect the town.

The convention then adjourned.

SAMUEL KATZ IS HELD.

Will Have to Answer to a Serious Charge Before the Grand Jury--Bail Fixed at $300.

Yesterday afternoon there was a hearing in the case of the state against S. Katz, charged with receiving stolen property. It will be remembered that the old gentleman was arrested some two or three weeks ago, charges being preferred by Special Detective W. J. McFetridge.

It seems that the arrest was the culmination of a long search into the operations of petty thefts in and about the N. P. shops in this city and it is understood that Katz is one of the many that will be obliged to answer to this serious charge before the Northern Pacific gets through.

In Katz's case he was charged with receiving stolen property from young boys in the city and the officers of the Northern Pacific tell some great tales relating to the operations. It is alleged that the old gentleman, as well as others in the city, have been employing a gang of young thieves in the city to steal copper and brass from the shops.

It is a pretty serious crime if it can be proven and the old man will certainly get a trip if found guilty.

EXPENSIVE WRECK FOR NOR. PACIFIC.

It is Estimated That the Staples Wreck Will Cost Company About $75,000.

WHERE THE BLAME LIES.

Claimed That Brakeman Turned the Switch That Night But Not Intentionally.

Speaking to a prominent Northern Pacific official regarding the wreck, which occurred a few nights ago near Staples, a DISPATCH representative ascertained that a wreck of this kind is quite an expensive affair for the company; that it will stand them about $75,000 before everything is settled.

The company will of course have to settle for the loss of life and this probably they will do without any question. And then there is the loss from expense in caring for the injured. Then the loss to the rolling stock will run way up. The engines which were wrecked were both new; out for the first time and they were almost a total wreck.

There has been considerable discussion as to the cause of the wreck and it is claimed or thought by the officials of the company that the brakeman on No. 7 was to blame, although not intentionally. He was taken in at Fargo by an official of the company but denied having turned the switch at all.

BOX CAR THIEVES.

Have been Operating in the Yards in this City--Most of the Goods Stolen were Located.

Special Detective McFetridge, of the Northern Pacific was in the city yesterday on business connected with the Katz case. While here his attention was also called to some looting that had been going on in the city in the Northern Pacific yards. It seems that two or three cars were opened and several boxes of merchandise extracted. Most of the goods, however, have been located and returned to the owners. Mr. McFetridge will take special pains to locate these pilferers.

He left last night for West Superior where he was called on account of some dirty work being done between that place and Ashland. It seems that some one had a stick of dynamite placed under the track and it was blown to atoms at one place. Mr. McFetridge will investigate.

Will the party who got the wrong Lady's Crescent wheel from City Hotel Saturday call at Gruenhagen's and exchange.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

PALOMA TONIGHT.

Paloma, the wonderful child pianist, will be at the Brainerd opera house this evening and already the advance sale of seats at H. P. Dunn & Co's is good. No one should miss the opportunity of hearing this wonderful young lady. It will be a chance of a life-time. The following is what her own father, Prof. C. F. W. Schramm now has to say regarding his daughter.

"It has been my aim from the very start, when I discovered the great talent my child Paloma possessed, to guide her in such a way that she acquired the taste for high class music exclusively and I was happy to find that in spite of her years she was able to penetrate so deeply into the spirit of our greatest masters that she simply carried away by storm all those who heard her. It would indeed have been a crime on my part if I had not done everything in my power to develop the heavenly gift nature has endowed her with and deprived the world of the pleasure of listening to her performance. I need not dwell here upon her attainments, I need not mention her many and repeated successes; the newspapers of America and Europe, the highest musical critics have pronounced judgment on her talent and her accomplishments. I may, however, when addressing youthful readers, when addressing parents of promising children, mention the one thing, that I consider of the greatest value."

TWO LITTLE WAIFS.

"Two Little Waifs," a new play by Lincoln J. Carter, will be an offering at the Brainerd Opera House soon. By some critics this new product is said to be the best in Carter's repertoire. Its initial performance in Chicago is reported to have met with signal success. The story hinges about two twin sisters, waifs, bearing a striking resemblance. The fact that they are unknown to each other leads to many misunderstandings and intricate situations. Stanley and Lolita Lamb, two clever little tots, essay the parts of the waifs. Miss Helen Carrall fills the dual role of a lovable, affectionate wife, and in direct contrast, the cold-hearted, unscrupulous adventuress and her transitions from one character to the other are said to be easy and complete.

"TOO RICH TO MARRY."

The American press have been unanimous in their praise for Edwin Owings Towne's great New York success, "Too Rich to Marry."

Los Angeles, Cal. Times says: "Best company; best play of the season." El Paso Herald says: "A laughing hit." Come again, we like you. "Too Rich to Marry" comes here July 16.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The St. Cloud Journal-Press throws seventeen kinds of fits because Ahlers was taken out of the game here Sunday as umpire. Ahlers was a "sidekick" to Kilroy, the St. Cloud pitcher and has been traveling with him all season and naturally if there was a close decision anywhere he would win out for his old pal, now wouldn't he Harvey? But then the adverse decisions he did make were not close at all.

The Brainerd team went down to St. Cloud this afternoon to do battle again with the St. Cloud team. Efforts are to be made to take Dr. Chance down from Little Falls to do the umpiring.

The barbers of the city accept the challenge of the printers to play a game of ball, and will be ready to play any time after July 4th.

The Annual Convention of the National Educational Association, will be held at Minneapolis, Minn., July 7 to 11, 1902. For the above occasion The Northern Pacific Railway Co. will sell tickets July 5, 6, 7 and 8th 1902, limited to continuous passage in each direction. Going trip to commence on date of sale with final return limit of July 14th, 1902, at one first class fare plus $2.00 to cover membership fee for the round trip.

At J. E. Hawkins market and grocery you will find fresh goods, the best the market affords.

WHILE YOU WAIT

IS CLEVERLY WRITTEN

OPINION OF VARIOUS MINE OFFICIALS ON PRESIDENT MITCHELL'S ADDRESS.

MINERS CONTINUE ACTIVE

Attempt Will Be Made to Shut Down

the Eleven Washeries Between Pittston and Carbondale That Have Resumed Operations Since the Strike.

No New Developments in the Bituminous Situation.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 24.—Independent operators and superintendents were interviewed on President Mitchell's address to the public. None of the officials seen would permit his name to be used and there is no one in the region who is authorized to make a statement or give an opinion for the big coal companies. Such official statements of interviews can come only from the presidents of the big companies in New York or Philadelphia.

In the opinion of most of the officials here the address is "cleverly written" and will appeal to those persons who are not familiar with the conditions in the mining regions. The miners' union will make an attempt to shut down the washeries between Pitts- ton and Carbondale that have resumed operations since the strike was begun. A committee of the local unions at the places where the washeries are located will be appointed and a thorough canvass of the men working at these places will be made in the effort to get them to quit work. It is said at strike headquarters that most of these men are clerks and other company employes.

Several thousand tons of coal, it is said, are taken from the culm banks and sent to the market each day. There were no new developments in the bituminous phase of the coal strike during the day. News from the West as to how the miners there stand is eagerly awaited. There is still much speculation as to what the special national convention will do. One of the district officers here said he was of the opinion if the supply of soft coal could be curtailed to a certain point the proposition to call a general strike will not be pressed.

MAJORITY AT WORK.

No General Strike of the Silk Workers

Ordered as Yet.

Paterson, N. J., June 24.—It is estimated that 20 per cent of the employes of the silk mills for whom looms were ready stayed away from work. No general strike of the silk workers has been ordered and none is likely for a day or so, if at all. The committee of the general conference of silk workers appointed Saturday night to wait on the boss dyers and ask them to come to an agreement with their dyers helpers met with partial success.

The general committee of the silk workers, after hearing a report of the sub-committee stating that the mills owners refused to close their plants until the Paterson troubles were settled, voted to remain out and endeavor to call all out who remain at work. Detectives arrested Frank Schneider of this city. He is charged with having shot Patrolman Charles Robinson during the fight about the Bamford mill Wednesday last. Schneider is a dyers' helper. He denies absolutely that he fired the shot.

The requisition papers for McQueen, who was arrested in New York, have been prepared and will probably be placed before Governor Murphy in the morning.

WILL BE NO ARBITRATION.

Coal Company President Comments on the Miners' Strike.

New York, June 24.—President Olyphant of the Delaware and Hudson company made the following comment on the statement of President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, issued in reply to that of the operators in which the correspondence leading up to the strike was made public:

"Mitchell's statement is misleading and unreliable as to facts and figures.

If Mitchell proposes to call out the bituminous miners and paralyze the entire industries of the country he will find he has taken upon his shoulders a job bigger than he is able to cope with.

"There will be no arbitration; that is certain. We will operate our mines again with the men that are on strike now. They will only be too glad to come back and no strike leader will be able to keep them out."

Receives Filipino Greetings.

Canton, O., June 24.—Mrs. McKinley received from Felipe Buencamino, a former member of Aguinaldo's cabinet and now a leader of the Federal party in the Philippines, the greetings and memorial of that party, which he was commissioned to personally carry to her. He came from Washington, accompanied by Frank Jeannini of the war department, who served him as interpreter. They were received by Mrs. McKinley and later entertained by former Secretary of State Judge Day, with whom they visited West

Lawn cemetery and afterward dined at his home.

Boilermakers Decline the Advance.

Spokane, Wash., June 24.—Not one of the striking boilermakers returned to work in the Great Northern shops at Hilyard in spite of the railway's invitation to return to work at $3.40 per day, an advance of 15 cents over former wages. The machinists in the Great Northern shops have been given an increase from $3.25 to $3.40 per day.

Toronto Street Railway Strike Ends.

Toronto, June 24.—The strike of the street railway employes is practically ended by the signing of a compromise in behalf of the employes and the company.

RIFLE PIT CAVES IN.

Three Workmen Instantly Killed at Sea Girt, N. J.

Sea Girt, N. J., June 24.—The partially completed rifle range caved in at 6 p. m., catching three men who were trying to escape between the toppling front walls and the rear wall, crushing them to death instantly.

General Bird W. Spencer, inspector of rifle practice of New Jersey, and his assistant, Lieutenant Colonel Richard B. Reading, who had only the moment before stopped to talk with the men while on inspection of the work, had most miraculous escapes from the same fate.

The men who were killed were Anson Hale, John B. Marsh and Jacob Shibley, residents of Manasquan, N. J.

All three are married. Hale leaves a family of eight and Shibley two children.

The range had been completed except the frame work of the 600-yard pit. It was here that the men were working Colonel Olcott says the accident was caused by the men removing the braces too soon.

Held Responsible for Sanitarium Fire.

Chicago, June 24.—O. E. Miller, president, and Henry Clark Davis, general manager of the St. Luke's society, were held responsible by the coroner's jury for the fire at St. Luke's sanitarium, which destroyed eleven lives.

The other four employees arrested after the fire were released. Miller and Davis were rearrested a few minutes after the verdict of the jury was read.

Town Wiped Out by Fire.

St. Louis, June 24.—Fire caused by the overturning of a lantern in a stable at Madison, Ill., wiped out practically the entire city. The damage is estimated at $200,000. Practically the entire population united in fighting the fire. No human lives were lost, but a score or more of horses were burned. The loss is believed to be partially covered by insurance.

One Killed and Four Fatally Injured.

Mount Vernon, Ind., June 24.—A portable engine exploded on the farm of George W. Rowe, near this city, killing the engineer, Tom Rowe, and fatally injuring George Rowe, George W. Homas and a young boy, Harry Rowe, Jr. A woman named Smith, who was near, was also badly hurt by a piece of the flying machinery.

Murderess Declared Insane.

Barnstable, Mass., June 24.—Miss Jane Toppin, a nurse, was found "not guilty by reason of insanity" of the murder by poisoning of Mrs. Mary D. Gibbs of Cataumet, on Aug. 12, 1901, before a special sitting of the superior court here. Miss Toppin was ordered committed to Taunton insane asylum for life.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Former President and Mrs. Cleveland have left Princeton for Buzzards Bay, where they will spend the summer.

William Bement Lent of New York, author of "Halcyon Days" and other books, is dead at his summer home at Norfolk, Conn., aged 60 years.

It is reported that Sir William Vernon Harcourt, M. P., has declined an offer to be elevated to the peerage on the coronation of King Edward.

Kid McFadden of San Francisco was knocked out by Ben Jordan, the English pugilist, in the fifteenth round at the National Sporting club, London.

Lizette, ridden by J. Reiff, won the race for the Prix Semendria at the Saint Cloud (France) meeting. W. K. Vanderbilt's Nettle, on which MacGinn had the mount, was second.

MISSING THE PARTY.

Why One Girl Had to Keep Secluded For Over a Week.

They were two pretty girls, and when they happened to meet on one of the quiet streets of the city the girl in gray turned and walked in the direction the other one had taken.

"Now, let me know all about the party," said the one who had turned. "I've been just dying to see you and have you tell me."

"Oh, but I wasn't there at all," said her companion. "This is the first time I've been out of the house for more than a week."

"Why, have you been ill?" her friend inquired, surprised and solicitous.

"No, I really think it was worse than that," she replied.

"You know I'm a little proud of my hair, for it's my one redeeming point"—modestly—"and because it is naturally wavy it is always fluffiest after it has been shampooed."

"A day or two before the party I washed my hair, using what I thought was borax in the water. When I attempted to dry my erstwhile 'bonnie brown curls' they were stringy and hard and looked as if they had been frozen in wisps. Then to my horror I discovered that I had used powdered alum in the water. It took me a whole week to get it out of my hair. I missed the party I had set my heart upon attending and wouldn't let any of my friends see me, for I was a perfect fright!"—Duluth News-Tribune.

Sins of the Tongue.

The sins of the tongue all point to the necessity and profit of self mastery. There is danger in the tongue that often brings the deepest sorrow to innocent ones, as well as throws a reflection on a pure character. If this confession of failure and magnifying of the office of the tongue seem exaggerated, let any one sit down quietly and think of the sins and cruelties of human speech. The careless words which no repentance can call back again, the rash promises which it has cost us so much to fulfill, the expression of the lower nature which has shamed the higher, the confessions of evil and yielding to falsehood, the hot and angry words which sober thought condemn—these are some of the perils of the tongue. On the other hand, like most of the uses of the world which turn so easily to evil, the tongue may be the instrument of great and lasting good.

A Rejected Novel.

Before he had achieved fame the French novelist Xavier de Montepin, on concluding a long and elaborate tale of adventure took it, full of hope, to a publisher, who promptly declined it on even the most advantageous terms, to the writer's poignant mortification. Twenty years afterward this identical publisher, besought at his hands a sensational story, one of those serials which were the delight of grissettes, offering any price within reason. "Well," said de Montepin, "I will oblige you, but my terms must be somewhat heavy. I want $4,000." After many protests it was paid.

In telling the story de Montepin used to add, "The best of the business was that it was the very same story which he had previously rejected and which I had in various directions endeavored in vain to dispose of."

A Curious Tree.

There is a peculiar tree in the forests of central India which has most curious characteristics. The leaves of the tree are of a highly sensitive nature and so full of electricity that whoever touches one of them receives an electric shock. It has a very singular effect upon a magnetic needle and will influence it at a distance of even seventy feet. The electrical strength of the trees varies according to the time of day, it being strongest at midday and weakest at midnight. In wet weather its powers disappear altogether. Birds never approach the tree, nor have insects ever been seen upon it.

Wanted All Good People Nice.

Those who have complained that virtue is uninteresting have usually been branded as cynics or, worse, as people trying to be clever. To all such this true story of a little girl may come as consolation, for "out of the mouths," etc.

Little Alice had been put to bed and told to say her prayers. "O God," she prayed, "make all the bad people good and make all the good people—all the good people—all the good people—nice!"—New York Tribune.
